

Rachel Wolf

Artist Bio

Rachel Wolf is a multi-media artist based between Colorado, New York and Panama. Born in 1999 in New York Wolf grew up surrounded by the artistic influences of her Father, collector, and her mother, artist. While, her parental influences certainly had an impact on her artist zeal and appreciation for the overlooked Wolf is extraordinarily unique in an art work that shifts evermore to digital realm.

Wolf sews together fragmented elements of the natural world and her own surreal imagination into bewitching tapestries that bring together elements as disparate as cows teeth and Cheesecloth.
