

SEBASTIAN ORE BLAS

BIOGRAPHY

Sebastian Ore Blas (b. 2002, Lima, Peru) is a painter based in Brooklyn, NY. His work explores the tension between the physical and the metaphysical through allegorical imagery and compositional fragmentation. Drawing on magical realism literature, art history, and his own photographic archive of domestic scenes, he assembles artificial compositions from foreign elements and examines how they behave when recontextualized. Shifts in value, hue, and contrast mark the meeting of the abstract and the real, and set the allegorical against the literal, the flat against the rendered, and the present against the absent. Ore Blas has recently exhibited at Parent Company Gallery, Kasmin Gallery, Peninsula Gallery and Plato Gallery in New York, mtn space Gallery in Lake Worth, at the Contemporary Art Museum in Tampa, and at Galería Cholo Terco in Lima. His work has been covered in Revista Caretas and Palm Beach Illustrated.
